Biography

Sachin Ramesh Tendulkar was born on 24 April 1973 in Bombay (now Mumbai), India. He is a right-handed batter and an occasional leg-spin and medium-pace bowler, often called the Master Blaster and the Little Master. His father, Ramesh Tendulkar, was a Marathi novelist and poet, and his mother, Rajni, worked in the insurance industry. He was coached from childhood by Ramakant Achrekar at Shivaji Park. In 1988, in a school match, he and Vinod Kambli shared an unbroken partnership of 664 runs.

Tendulkar made his first-class debut for Bombay in 1988 at the age of 15 and scored a century. He made his Test debut on 15 November 1989 against Pakistan at Karachi, aged 16 years and 205 days, and his One Day International debut on 18 December 1989 against Pakistan at Gujranwala. He married Anjali in 1995. They have a daughter, Sara, and a son, Arjun, who also plays cricket.

International career

Tendulkar played international cricket for 24 years. He scored 100 international centuries, 51 in Tests and 49 in ODIs, the only batter to reach that mark. He played in six ODI World Cups and was a member of the team that won the 2011 World Cup at home, the only major trophy that had eluded him. He retired from ODIs in December 2012 and played his 200th and final Test against the West Indies at the Wankhede Stadium on 14 to 16 November 2013, where he made 74 in his last innings.

Test record

Matches: 200, the most in Test history. Runs: 15,921, the most in Test history. Batting average: 53.78. Centuries: 51. Half-centuries: 68. Highest score: 248 not out against Bangladesh at Dhaka in 2004. Tendulkar scored six Test double centuries.

One Day International record

Matches: 463. Runs: 18,426. Batting average: 44.83. Centuries: 49. Half-centuries: 96. Highest score: 200 not out against South Africa at Gwalior on 24 February 2010, the first double century in men's ODI cricket. His first ODI century came against Australia at Colombo in September 1994, in his 79th innings. His two Sharjah innings against Australia in April 1998 are remembered as the Desert Storm innings.

World Cup record

Tendulkar played 45 World Cup matches and scored 2,278 runs at an average of about 56.9, with six centuries, the most runs and most centuries in World Cup history. In the 2003 World Cup he scored 673 runs and was named Player of the Tournament.

Twenty20 and the Indian Premier League

Tendulkar played one T20 International, in December 2006 against South Africa, and scored 10 runs. In the Indian Premier League he played 78 matches for Mumbai Indians, scored 2,334 runs, including one century, and captained the team in the first seasons.

Awards

Arjuna Award (1994), Rajiv Gandhi Khel Ratna (1997 to 1998), Padma Shri (1999), Padma Vibhushan (2008) and the Bharat Ratna (2014), India's highest civilian honour, which he received at the age of 40 as the first sportsperson and the youngest recipient. He was made an honorary Group Captain of the Indian Air Force in 2010 and was nominated to the Rajya Sabha in 2012.
